

---

Mason-Dixon information:

"Likely voters" are defined as follows:

California Democrats -- registered to vote in California, registered as a Democrat or not registered with any political party, and indicated they would "definitely" be voting in the February 5th Democratic presidential primary (or had voted early or by absentee).

California Republicans -- registered to vote in California, registered as a Republican, and indicated they would "definitely" be voting in the February 5th Republican presidential primary (or had voted early or by absentee).

South Carolina Democrats -- registered to vote in South Carolina, indicated they would not be voting in the January 19th Republican presidential primary and "definitely" voting in the January 26th Democratic presidential primary.

South Carolina Republicans -- registered to vote in South Carolina, indicated they would not be voting in the January 26th Democratic presidential primary and "definitely" voting in the January 19th Republican presidential primary.